3. Without exception this crew acquitted itself in an especially fine manner throughout the trip. It was a genuine pleasure to be associated with the officers and airmen of the crew, and each of them is a credit to the Air Force.

4. The trip was placed on an exceptionally tight schedule at my request. Basic planning was accomplished by Special Air Missions. Final planning was done by Major Laney, the pilot, and Captain Smith, the navigator. The excellence of their planning and their outstanding execution made it possible for us to maintain this schedule in spite of its very close timing.

5. I particularly would like to commend Major Laney, who demonstrated exceptional tact, enthusiasm for his job, and proficiency as a pilot.
